Enjoy Enniskillen - the island town - where a natural reaction welcomes you

FERMANAGH and Omagh District Council in association with Enniskillen BID supports The Fermanagh Herald 'Enjoy Enniskillen' initiative to help promote the town centre and support our unique local businesses and services.

The initiative provides an opportunity for the Council to showcase the new 'Place' brand for 'Enniskillen, The Island Town' which reflects the key attributes of the town as Ireland's only island town surrounded by natural and built heritage, and miles of Lough shore.

The Place brand captures the diverse mix of people, businesses and visitors in Enniskillen and capturing the town's unique cultural, historic and tourism offering, which has opportunities for everyone to explore on water and land. A strapline, 'Naturally Welcoming' has been developed to encompass the rich nature, location, people and personality of the town.

The Place brand aims to increase the visibility of the town with a consistent message that will be delivered through a marketing campaign to support recovery across the various sectors; retail, hospitality and visitor and night-time economy.

Speaking about the new Place brand, Chair of Fermanagh and Omagh District Council Cllr Errol Thompson said:

"Fermanagh and Omagh District Council is delighted to support the 'Enjoy Enniskillen' initiative.

The Council is committed to working in partnership with all key stakeholders, including the business community, to aid the recovery and revitalisation of the town centre to ensure its long term sustainability and has already delivered a range of initiatives aimed at promoting confidence in our town centres as we emerge from the most challenging 18 months in living memory.

The 'Enniskillen Island Town' brand perfectly encapsulates the essence of Enniskillen, and what makes it unique.

We are the only island town on the Island of Ireland, and we are justifiably proud of the "naturally welcoming" outlook of the people and the experiences we provide for those who live nearby, those who come to visit, and those with family connections to Enniskillen. With an abundance of activities, retail offerings and hospitality experiences, I am confident that our business and tourism will be enriched with this Place brand."

Fermanagh and Omagh District Council continues to support town centre recovery and revitalisation through the facilitation of Covid-19 Business Recovery Grants and Business Support Services.

The Council are also delivering capital projects such as the ongoing Enniskillen public realm scheme, the completion of improvement works at the Buttermarket that have enhanced the aesthetics of the site and also increased accessibility. Enhancement works at the junction of Regal Pass and Wellington Road will be undertaken to better connect the town centre with the Erneside Shopping Centre and to improve user experience of the town. In tandem with this new gateway features are being developed to replace existing signage and install new features to improve the sense of arrival into the town.

Enniskillen Castle recently improved its provision with the introduction of a newly completed reduced Changing Place facility which aims to support people with access needs, a welcome addition for those visiting the Castle and the town centre.

The new 'Around the Meadow' Reminiscence Trail adds a wonderful dimension to the offer of the town, the conservation works at Coles Monument and the investment to Forthill Park and the Workhouse project demonstrate the Council's commitment to invest in our towns to make them accessible to all and ensure the unique heritage of Enniskillen is at the heart of regeneration projects.

Alongside the physical improvements the Council are also ensuring a warm welcome awaits visitors to Enniskillen with the return of the very popular 'Live and Local' music programme each Saturday lunchtime in August. The music programme brings the Diamond to life and supports the arts and our local artists.

The Council is also planning its seasonal events programme. Central to the planning 'The Christmas Lights Festival'.

The facades of buildings in the town centre will be transformed using festive 3D mapping and light projections to deliver a positive Christmas experience, increase visitation and stimulate spend in the local economy supporting the local business sector. A programme of festive family focussed events will be developed along with music and street animation.

We encourage you all to 'Enjoy Enniskillen, The Island Town' were a natural welcome awaits.

Come and Enjoy Enniskillen, The Island Town!

Enjoy
Enniskillen!
and surrounds

Enniskillen BID - getting things done

Noelle McAloon, Enniskillen BID Manager beside the heart selfie frame at Broadmeadow.

John-Ross Knox, Manager Houstons, Enniskillen, pictured beside the large mural on the side of the shop.

Pat Blake is the current Chairman of Enniskillen Business Improvement District (BID) and has been on the board of directors since its inception in 2017, as well as being part of the steering group that helped Enniskillen achieve the status of BID.

Enniskillen BID has a strong emphasis on getting things done for Enniskillen businesses and here Pat tells us about some of the BID accomplishments to date.

"BID is here to support local businesses with various initiatives and by doing that, bring new revenue and visitors to town. Our primary success story has to be the Enniskillen Gift Card, with sales to date in excess of £300,000, this is revenue that is locked into the town of Enniskillen and benefits all types of businesses from hairdressers and beauty salons to retail outlets and supermarkets. Noelle McAloon, BID Manager, ensured that Enniskillen was the first town in Northern Ireland to have their own gift card and it continues to be the best selling gift card in the whole of the UK.

Dovetailing nicely with the Gift Card is Mi-Rewards, Enniskillen's loyalty programme. Mi-Rewards is the first customer loyalty scheme on the Island of Ireland and it rewards shoppers for choosing local. Whether you're having a meal out and a few drinks in the town, or you're buying your weekly groceries, you can earn reward points and be in with the chance of winning the monthly prize. Visit www.mi-rewards.com/enniskillen to register and be in with a chance to win big!

Experience Enniskillen is the marketing arm of Enniskillen BID and is the platform we use to market Enniskillen via Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and YouTube. Tourism is an important sector for Enniskillen and BID uses various methods to encourage tourists to come to Enniskillen for day trips, short breaks and staycations. These include promotions with local hotels, as well as being involved with events such as Shoreline Music Festival and the St Patrick's Day parade. Other recent initiatives to add interest to Enniskillen include The Happy Prince mural and The Heart of Enniskillen Selfie spot in the Broadmeadow. More murals are on their way, so be sure to keep an eye out.

Trading practices changed dramatically during the pandemic and many businesses had to reinvent themselves in order to stay relevant and continue to provide a service to their customers. Digital Enniskillen is a BID initiative that continues to provide support to BID businesses to ensure that they can become more digital and therefore add more value to their business and more choice for their customers.

There are many more initiatives that BID has and will continue to undertake for Enniskillen businesses, such as paying for CCTV and the Christmas lights. I urge all Enniskillen businesses to contact Noelle McAloon, the BID Manager, to share ideas for promoting Enniskillen and to see how their business could benefit further from BID support.

Enniskillen BID is up for renewal early next year and I look forward to another 5 years of investment in our Island Town"

Fintan O'Doherty from O'Doherty's Butchers, Enniskillen

Enniskillen, the friendliest town

Another new initiative that many people in Enniskillen will have seen across our social media channels has been a series of vlog style videos with local businesses by well known local man, and world renowned musician, Kieran Leonard.

In the first of these videos, where Kieran explored what made Enniskillen the 'friendliest town' in the UK in a recent poll, he visited O'Doherty's butchers where he himself had worked as a teenager.

Chatting to customers and members of the O'Doherty family Kieran got right to the heart of what makes Enniskillen and its businesses so special. The video reached 14,000 people with Fintan O'Doherty delighted with the response:

"It was just brilliant and another great initiative from BID. The video was fun and friendly and got people talking and really got across what we are all about in O'Doherty's. We even got Kieran back in his apron!"

Fintan continued, "Serving the people of Enniskillen is what we do and we want to see a vibrant town where businesses and customers support each other. It is so important for businesses to not only provide a great service but also to look for ways to improve and promote themselves better and Enniskillen BID help in so many ways to achieve this."

The Enniskillen Taste Experience

Mark Edwards runs the highly successful Enniskillen Taste Experience, a wonderful food and drink tour round the Island Town of Enniskillen. BID were delighted to work with Mark during his initial setup and continue to keep close links with Mark as he grows his business. Here's what Mark has to say about working with BID

"Enniskillen BID has had an influential part to play in my business, not only from the early stages of development and launch, but through its growth. Over the past three years it has provided me with a professional support network and experience that has allowed me the confidence to move forward and continue the development of the business.

It is a great addition to any entrepreneur looking for advice and the staff are always there to help and add value.

The concept in supporting local businesses and the drive to maintain the heart of the town centre is crucial to the community. Many businesses may find times challenging, so it vital that they know there is expert advice and support out there."

Enniskillen BID is always keen to hear from individuals and businesses who want to start up trading in Enniskillen. If you have an idea that you want to bring to the streets of Enniskillen, then give Enniskillen BID Manager, Noelle McAloon, a call on 07738491832 or email noelle@enniskillenbid.co.uk and start turning your dreams into reality.
